DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

4. Claims 14-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hees et al (5,753,606) in view of Haerer et al (5,759,987).

Hees et al disclose a low foaming cleaning composition for hard surfaces comprising 0.1 to 50% by weight of an alkyl polyglycoside (col. 2, lines 13-27); fatty acid alkyl ester alkoxylates of formula (II) (col. 2, line 59-col. 3, line 24); and additional surfactants such as nonionic alkyl polyglycol ethers, fatty acid polyglycol ethers and mixtures thereof (col. 3, lines 47-55). Note, see example 11.

Hees et al disclose all of the instantly required except applicant's additional N-alkyl glucamide nonionic surfactant.

Haerer et al disclose a hard surface cleaning composition comprising mixed ethers, glycol ethers and further nonionic surfactants such as alkyl polyglycoside and/or fatty acid N-alkyl glucamide surfactants (col. 2, line 5-col. 3, line 5).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to include the N-alkyl glucamide type nonionic surfactant of Haerer et al to the compositions of Hees et al because Hees et al invite the inclusion of nonionic surfactants such as alkyl polyglycosides and Haerer et al suggest the alky polyglycosides and N-alkyl glucamides are functional equivalent nonionic surfactants for hard surface cleaning compositions. Therefore, absent a showing to the contrary, one of ordinary skill in the art would expect synergistic and/or beneficial results by including a N-alkyl glucamide nonionic surfactant in the compositions of Hees et al.
